A central display rack with multiple shelves. The top three shelves are glass-fronted and contain various types of fresh breads, including rolls and loaves, each with a green circular sticker. The bottom two shelves are open and contain packaged breads, including long loaves and smaller rolls in bags.

A glass display case containing various pastries, cakes, and breads, arranged neatly on shelves. The case is illuminated from within, highlighting the products.

A tall shelving unit on the left side of the store, filled with various packaged bakery products, including bags of flour, yeast, and other ingredients. The shelves are organized and labeled.

A cashier counter area featuring a digital screen displaying 'OK' and a printer. The counter is black and modern in design.
